

Miss Helen Gregory First To File Nomination Coupon

(Continued from page one.)

done by accepting the appointment, provided hearty cooperation was extended by the Chamber of Commerce, other organizations and the business interests of the city.

Dr. C. A. Lippincott, representing the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, was introduced. He said that for several months the Chamber of Commerce had been planning an expanded movement of the Chamber, that it would be in a position to render greater service to the community. It was set for the month of May because the men whom the board of directors desired to employ for expert assistance could not be secured earlier. It was while these plans were in progress and just at the time when the civic specialists arrived to begin their duties that the South Bend development project was announced.

That movement, said Dr. Lippincott, must go on and the mayor is the logical man to lead it. The Greater South Bend Advisory committee and the meeting of the committee had already been planned before the expansion movement was announced. He pointed out that the Chamber of Commerce expansion plans were highly important and would be of much aid to the greater project. During the next few weeks, he claimed, there would be an educational campaign to inform the public on the needs of the community and this educational work will be of great help to the mayor and his project.

Others Expanding.

"It is not Studebaker expansion alone that needs more houses," said Dr. Lippincott. "Other industries are expanding. It's a question of Oliver's expansion, of Singer expansion, of the South Bend Lath company expansion and many others, large, medium sized and small. All are interested."

"It is not intended that the Chamber of Commerce shall lead in the movement to solve the housing problem, but through making it strong and representative and providing sufficient operating funds it will become a most powerful factor in aiding the mayor's undertaking."

At the conclusion of the addresses, Chairman Hubbard announced that an election would be held to choose 15 men to serve with the board of directors as a campaign executive committee. This committee will be in charge of the campaign, he said.

Bulletins containing the names of the members of the committee of 150 were distributed and each one present voted for fifteen. The bulletins were counted last night at the Chamber of Commerce, but those elected will not be made public until their acceptance has been received. A motion was introduced and adopted at the meeting that in case any one declined to serve the person with the next highest vote would be selected.

The campaign executive committee will meet today at 4:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce building and begin work upon the details of the expansion movement.

City Briefs

The condition of Miss Mary T. Neer, 522 S. Carroll st., who was injured in an auto accident at the corner of Carroll and Wayne sts. Sunday night, was reported improved by attendants at Epworth hospital Monday afternoon. She was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance in an unconscious condition and suffering from a deep scalp wound.

The condition of William Moss, Sherman av., who was removed from his home to Epworth hospital Saturday following a stroke of apoplexy, is regarded as serious. Attendants reported that he was unconscious Monday afternoon.

Fire, which was caused by a faulty gasoline engine, resulted in a loss estimated at $200 to James H. Gleason, 1914 S. Carroll st., when it destroyed a shed adjoining his home shortly after noon yesterday. The blaze also did slight damage to the house.

South Bend chapter of the American Society of Steel Treating will hold annual meeting of the year this evening at Kable's banquet hall. An election of officers and annual reports of the year will follow a 7 o'clock dinner.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

By Good Will Editor

The American Committee for Devastated France announces that it has selected The South Bend News-Times as the medium through which a South Bend representative to the Good Will delegation to France will be chosen. The South Bend delegate will have all expenses paid on a trip which will include a visit to Paris, a journey through sunny Normandy and a tour of the American, English and French battle fronts. The delegation will sail from New York this summer.

The Good Will delegation will be a memorable event. It will include representatives from scores of American cities and will cement more firmly the age-old friendships between the two peoples. Every member will be an elected delegate selected by popular vote to represent her city. The Good Will delegation will be officially received by the French Government before beginning its tour of the battle fields.

Rules governing the contest are simple. The first thing to do is to nominate yourself—or any other you would like to see selected as South Bend's delegate. Fill out the nomination coupon and return it immediately to the Good Will Editor of The News-Times. That puts your candidate in nomination with 100 votes to her credit.

Once nominated, votes will be cast for candidates and the candidates receiving the greatest number of votes will be declared elected. Every 10 cents contributed to the work of the American Committee for Devastated France will count as one vote. Candidates should be entered today so that they may win the support of their neighbors and friends.

All money obtained in the Good Will election will go to the American Committee and will be taken to France as South Bend's offering. The offering will be used in furthering the relief work of the American Committee. Little need be said of the work of this splendid organization in that part of the war-torn country where the American armies were encased. It has received the commendation of statesmen of two continents, including Pres. Harding, Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, is president of the organization.

Mail or bring nomination blank to the Good Will Editor.

Regulations for Election

Regulations which will govern the Good Will election of the American Committee for Devastated France and The South Bend News-Times follow:

Any girl or woman resident of South Bend and vicinity is eligible. Contestants must be above the age of 18.

All candidates must be nominated during the period of nomination either by themselves or by others.

Nomination period begins tomorrow, May 8, and ends at midnight next Sunday.

No money need accompany the nomination blank (which will appear daily in The News-Times of next week).

Nomination blanks count as 100 votes.

Only one nomination blank will be credited to any one candidate.

Nominations should be mailed or brought to the Good Will Editor, South Bend News-Times City.

Baloting begins Monday, May 14, and ends at midnight Saturday, June 3. A fourth week of balloting may be held if deemed necessary.

One vote will be credited to a designated candidate for each 10 cents contributed to the American Committee for Devastated France.

The candidate receiving the greatest number of votes will be declared elected by the judges.

All expenses of the honorary delegate will be paid.

BURNED TO DEATH.

GARY, Ind., May 8.—Chester Howard White, 16-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. White, was burned to death Monday when matches he was playing with set fire to his clothing. The mother was badly burned in trying to smother the flames.

When you say cigars—say Dutch Masters

COUNCIL REJECTS MEASURE TO PAVE RIVERSIDE DRIVE

An Ordinance Appropriating $19,870 Voted Down for Lack of Funds.

An ordinance appropriating the sum of $19,870 from the general fund of the city of South Bend for the cost of paving Riverside Drive and N. Lafayette Blvd. was reported back to the council at its regular weekly meeting last night as impossible at this time because of lack of funds. The ordinance was lost by a vote of eight to two.

A stretch of road in Leeper park which was included in the ordinance will again be referred to the council by the park board in a separate ordinance. Estimates will be asked on the work and a new resolution introduced at a later date.

An ordinance prohibiting the distribution of advertising matter with a written permit from the chief of police, repealing ordinance No. 2139 and providing a penalty for the violation of the ordinance was introduced and referred to the committee of the whole for further consideration on next Monday night.

Ordinance No. 2138 will be repealed if the new ordinance is adopted and the city comptroller will be authorized to refund on demand to all persons to whom licenses were issued and who shall surrender such licenses, such proportionate part of the license fee paid as the unexpired term of paid license shall bear to the time for which such license is issued.

The ordinance was introduced to prevent the distribution of alleged medical samples. All advertising matter such as any written or printed card, circular, coupon, pamphlet or folder intended for distribution, except newspapers will come under the ban of the new ordinance.

An ordinance to name a part of a certain alley between Main st. and Lafayette Blvd. to be known as N. Court st. was referred to the committee of the whole for a further hearing May 15. A number of merchants with places of business facing the alley asked for the introduction of the ordinance to enable them to get their mail more promptly.

A word more! When nominating yourself, or another, observe the address line on the nomination coupon. The Good Will Editor must know where his candidates live before he can announce their candidacy. If possible, jot down their telephone numbers.

Telephone numbers are essential. The Good Will Editor can then call up the nominees, or the person nominating her, and find out something about the candidate. He would also like to talk to the lady, if she can arrange to call at his office.

(Photographs) The Good Will Editor would like to have a photograph of every girl or woman entering the race. If you haven't one, come in and see the Good Will Editor. He will arrange to have one taken. He wants to publish photographs of all contestants.

The above advice about addresses has been made because of the action of certain people who sent in nominations yesterday, but neglected to give addresses. For this reason no mention of such nominees have been made today, but the editor will do so when he has heard again from the parties.

Aside from that, everything is lovely. Just continue to send in nominations. Do it today! Do it now!

He can tell you of farms literally scattered over what was once the most beautiful countryside in the world. How the committee is helping the French farmers to recover and reclaim this land.

He can tell you of war orphans proudly wearing the medals and citations of fathers and brothers across chest, hollow with incipient tuberculosis. How the committee, through the medical clinics, is staying off the ravages of this dread disease.

He can tell you of mothers and girls who—but there are some things that cannot be told.

Just think of the opportunities! Paris, Versailles, Havre, Verdun, Ypres, the Good Will delegation can take the first steps of the trip, stopping at Ypres, the last stop on the battlefield. Today we can continue the trip.

After leaving Ypres, a short trip through the Aisne and then a visit to the sis. American Committee centers: Belgrade, Vic-sur-Aisne, Soissons, Anizy-le-Chateau, Courcy-en-Champagne. Here the Good Will delegation can take first hand the work of the committee—the marines visiting their villages, bringing cheer to the old people, the nurses on their rounds of visits, the baby clinics, the libraries, the foyers, the children's groups etc. All of this will take up about five or six days of the delegates' time.

Trip Over Battle Front.

Follow return trip to Paris. A brief respite and then a trip to Normandy, stopping en route at Chartres, Tours. Here side trips are taken to Bourges with its many cathedrals and the ancient town of which Blois is one of the oldest and most famous. Angers and Nantes next. At Nantes we visit the old cathedral on the river where Anne of Brittany spent most of her time. Also visit William the Conqueror Inn, in which that famous character of history spent evenings more than 200 years ago and which is one of the oldest buildings in France.

Then Varner—from this point go to Carnac (two hours by car) to see the famous old Druid ruins; also, fishing villages along the coast with their picturesque colored sail boats. Here also is Fort Quiberon, an old fortress which played an important role in the time of William the Conqueror and which was also used by France during the World war as a habitat for German prisoners.

Next comes Brittany, France's most beautiful countryside. Quimper—the town of the famous Quimper chin chin. Quimper with its beautiful cathedral and historic museum. Then the wonderful market place where everybody comes, clad in native Brittany costumes, to sell with him!

A word more! When nominating yourself, or another, observe the address line on the nomination coupon. The Good Will Editor must know where his candidates live before he can announce their candidacy. If possible, jot down their telephone numbers.

Telephone numbers are essential. The Good Will Editor can then call up the nominees, or the person nominating her, and find out something about the candidate. He would also like to talk to the lady, if she can arrange to call at his office.

(Photographs) The Good Will Editor would like to have a photograph of every girl or woman entering the race. If you haven't one, come in and see the Good Will Editor. He will arrange to have one taken. He wants to publish photographs of all contestants.

The above advice about addresses has been made because of the action of certain people who sent in nominations yesterday, but neglected to give addresses. For this reason no mention of such nominees have been made today, but the editor will do so when he has heard again from the parties.

Aside from that, everything is lovely. Just continue to send in nominations. Do it today! Do it now!

He can tell you of farms literally scattered over what was once the most beautiful countryside in the world. How the committee is helping the French farmers to recover and reclaim this land.

He can tell you of war orphans proudly wearing the medals and citations of fathers and brothers across chest, hollow with incipient tuberculosis. How the committee, through the medical clinics, is staying off the ravages of this dread disease.

He can tell you of mothers and girls who—but there are some things that cannot be told.

Just think of the opportunities! Paris, Versailles, Havre, Verdun, Ypres, the Good Will delegation can take the first steps of the trip, stopping at Ypres, the last stop on the battlefield. Today we can continue the trip.

After leaving Ypres, a short trip through the Aisne and then a visit to the sis. American Committee centers: Belgrade, Vic-sur-Aisne, Soissons, Anizy-le-Chateau, Courcy-en-Champagne.

Here the Good Will delegation can take first hand the work of the committee—the marines visiting their villages, bringing cheer to the old people, the nurses on their rounds of visits, the baby clinics, the libraries, the foyers, the children's groups etc. All of this will take up about five or six days of the delegates' time.

Trip Over Battle Front.

Follow return trip to Paris. A brief respite and then a trip to Normandy, stopping en route at Chartres, Tours. Here side trips are taken to Bourges with its many cathedrals and the ancient town of which Blois is one of the oldest and most famous. Angers and Nantes next. At Nantes we visit the old cathedral on the river where Anne of Brittany spent most of her time. Also visit William the Conqueror Inn, in which that famous character of history spent evenings more than 200 years ago and which is one of the oldest buildings in France.

Then Varner—from this point go to Carnac (two hours by car) to see the famous old Druid ruins; also, fishing villages along the coast with their picturesque colored sail boats. Here also is Fort Quiberon, an old fortress which played an important role in the time of William the Conqueror and which was also used by France during the World war as a habitat for German prisoners.

Next comes Brittany, France's most beautiful countryside. Quimper—the town of the famous Quimper chin chin. Quimper with its beautiful cathedral and historic museum. Then the wonderful market place where everybody comes, clad in native Brittany costumes, to sell with him!

A word more! When nominating yourself, or another, observe the address line on the nomination coupon. The Good Will Editor must know where his candidates live before he can announce their candidacy. If possible, jot down their telephone numbers.

Telephone numbers are essential. The Good Will Editor can then call up the nominees, or the person nominating her, and find out something about the candidate. He would also like to talk to the lady, if she can arrange to call at his office.

(Photographs) The Good Will Editor would like to have a photograph of every girl or woman entering the race. If you haven't one, come in and see the Good Will Editor. He will arrange to have one taken. He wants to publish photographs of all contestants.

The above advice about addresses has been made because of the action of certain people who sent in nominations yesterday, but neglected to give addresses. For this reason no mention of such nominees have been made today, but the editor will do so when he has heard again from the parties.

Aside from that, everything is lovely. Just continue to send in nominations. Do it today! Do it now!

He can tell you of farms literally scattered over what was once the most beautiful countryside in the world. How the committee is helping the French farmers to recover and reclaim this land.

He can tell you of war orphans proudly wearing the medals and citations of fathers and brothers across chest, hollow with incipient tuberculosis. How the committee, through the medical clinics, is staying off the ravages of this dread disease.

He can tell you of mothers and girls who—but there are some things that cannot be told.

Just think of the opportunities! Paris, Versailles, Havre, Verdun, Ypres, the Good Will delegation can take the first steps of the trip, stopping at Ypres, the last stop on the battlefield. Today we can continue the trip.

After leaving Ypres, a short trip through the Aisne and then a visit to the sis. American Committee centers: Belgrade, Vic-sur-Aisne, Soissons, Anizy-le-Chateau, Courcy-en-Champagne.

Here the Good Will delegation can take first hand the work of the committee—the marines visiting their villages, bringing cheer to the old people, the nurses on their rounds of visits, the baby clinics, the libraries, the foyers, the children's groups etc. All of this will take up about five or six days of the delegates' time.

Trip Over Battle Front.

Follow return trip to Paris. A brief respite and then a trip to Normandy, stopping en route at Chartres, Tours. Here side trips are taken to Bourges with its many cathedrals and the ancient town of which Blois is one of the oldest and most famous. Angers and Nantes next. At Nantes we visit the old cathedral on the river where Anne of Brittany spent most of her time. Also visit William the Conqueror Inn, in which that famous character of history spent evenings more than 200 years ago and which is one of the oldest buildings in France.

Then Varner—from this point go to Carnac (two hours by car) to see the famous old Druid ruins; also, fishing villages along the coast with their picturesque colored sail boats. Here also is Fort Quiberon, an old fortress which played an important role in the time of William the Conqueror and which was also used by France during the World war as a habitat for German prisoners.

Next comes Brittany, France's most beautiful countryside. Quimper—the town of the famous Quimper chin chin. Quimper with its beautiful cathedral and historic museum. Then the wonderful market place where everybody comes, clad in native Brittany costumes, to sell with him!

A word more! When nominating yourself, or another, observe the address line on the nomination coupon. The Good Will Editor must know where his candidates live before he can announce their candidacy. If possible, jot down their telephone numbers.

Telephone numbers are essential. The Good Will Editor can then call up the nominees, or the person nominating her, and find out something about the candidate. He would also like to talk to the lady, if she can arrange to call at his office.

(Photographs) The Good Will Editor would like to have a photograph of every girl or woman entering the race. If you haven't one, come in and see the Good Will Editor. He will arrange to have one taken. He wants to publish photographs of all contestants.

The above advice about addresses has been made because of the action of certain people who sent in nominations yesterday, but neglected to give addresses.